The University

Colleges and Schools of the University. The University of Nebraska comprises the following colleges and schools:

The Graduate College.
The College of Arts and Sciences, including the School of Fine Arts.
The College of Agriculture.
The College of Engineering.
The College of Law.
The Teachers College.
The College of Medicine.
The College of Pharmacy.
The College of Business Administration.
The College of Dentistry.

The Teachers College High School, the School of Agriculture, the Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis, the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station, the Experimental Substations at North Platte, Valentine, and Scottsbluff, the Irrigation School at Scottsbluff, the Agricultural Extension Service, and the University Extension Division are also under the supervision of the Board of Regents of the University.

For separate catalogs or information regarding any of the above colleges or schools, address

THE REGISTRAR,
The University of Nebraska
Lincoln, Nebraska

GENERAL INFORMATION CONCERNING THE UNIVERSITY

Physical Plant of the University. The grounds and buildings of the University are distributed as follows: (1) the original campus, situated in the capital city of Lincoln, with its main entrance at Eleventh and R streets (four blocks of ground, 11.9 acres, set aside by the "New Capital Location Commission" in 1867), expanded since 1914 to include practically seven and one half blocks of ground to the east mainly and to the north an area known as the "Campus Extension" tract—in all approximately forty-five acres. On this enlarged campus are eighteen buildings devoted to Academic, Law, Pharmaceutical, and Engineering instruction. Also, the Administration Building, Ellen Smith Hall (woman's building), the residence of the Chancellor and student dormitories for women which together with minor buildings make a total of thirty buildings on what is termed the "City Campus"; (2) the University Farm of three hundred and twenty acres, two and one half miles northeast of the original campus, on which are twelve buildings devoted to instruction in Agriculture and Home Economics, having also fifteen or more minor buildings used for various purposes; (3) the College of Medicine buildings in Omaha at Forty-second and Dewey Avenue. Adjacent to this campus and on land belonging to the state is the Child Saving Institute, the clinical facilities in which are under the control of the University; (4) the School of Agriculture at Curtis; (5) the Agronomy Farm of one hundred and sixty acres east of Havelock and University Place; (6) the Fruit Farm of eighty acres at Union; (7) the Irrigation School at Scottsbluff and (8, 9, 10) the substations at North Platte, Scottsbluff and Valentine. The various libraries, laboratories, museums and collections of the University, available for use by its students, are described in those portions of the catalog devoted to the colleges or schools with whose work they are chiefly connected.

Government of the University. The Chancellor, chosen by the Board of Regents, is the chief executive officer of the University; subject to the rules and orders of the Board he has both pedagogical and business supervision over the University as a whole, over the various Colleges, and over all the affairs and interests of the University. For each of the Colleges within the University the Board of Regents elects a Dean, to be the presiding officer of the faculty of his College and to perform such other duties as the Board or the faculty of his College may require. The faculty of each College, subject to the Chancellor and the Board, determines upon all matters relative to the internal affairs of its College. A University Senate, corresponding to the "general faculty" of other universities, and subject to the Chancellor and Board, determines questions which concern more than one College or the University as a whole. The Chancellor, Deans, chairmen and acting chairmen of departments, and such other members of staff as the Regents may name are voting members of the senate.

City Campus Scene.

Revenues of the University. Under the Constitution of 1920 and the civil administrative code legislation in 1921, authorized by the new Constitution, all statutory tax levies heretofore existing for support of state institutions, are discontinued beginning with the year 1921.

The moneys available for all university uses for the biennium ending June 30, 1923, are:—

United States donations; income from endowment lands and permanent funds; cash collections	$1,871,100.00
Appropriations from the state general fund (including $350,000 for permanent improvements)	4,182,500.00
	$6,053,600.00

History of the University. The University of Nebraska was founded by an act of Nebraska legislature, effective February 15, 1869. The subsequent new constitution of 1875, recognized the University as thus established, placed it under the general control of an elective board of six regents, and made certain fundamental provisions as to its organization and administration. The next legislature (1877) revised the act of 1869 in accordance with the provisions of the new constitution. Under this revised act (Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, Chapter 87), and subsequent amendments the University is at present organized and operating.

ADMISSION TO THE UNDERGRADUATE COLLEGES OF THE UNIVERSITY

Credentials which are accepted toward admission to the University become the property of the University and are kept permanently in the files. All credentials must be filed with the Registrar. They should be mailed at least two months before the beginning of any semester or session to insure prompt attention. Attention to this request will save applicants much inconvenience.

Admission to the University is gained only thru matriculation in one of the ten colleges, (the school of Fine Arts is included in the College of Arts and Sciences).

Admission may be (1) to freshman standing, (2) to advanced standing, and (3) as adult special students.

The requirements for admission to each of the colleges vary only in a small degree except in the case of the College of Law, the College of Medicine, and the College of Dentistry.

For full admission to freshman standing applicants must present 30 entrance points, for conditional admission a minimum of 28 entrance points. (An entrance point indicates the work of five recitations a week, of 40 to 50 minutes each, for at least eighteen weeks. In laboratory courses an entrance point indicates three recitations and two double periods of laboratory work each week for at least eighteen weeks. In laboratory courses without recitation, an entrance point is the equivalent of fifteen single periods each week.)

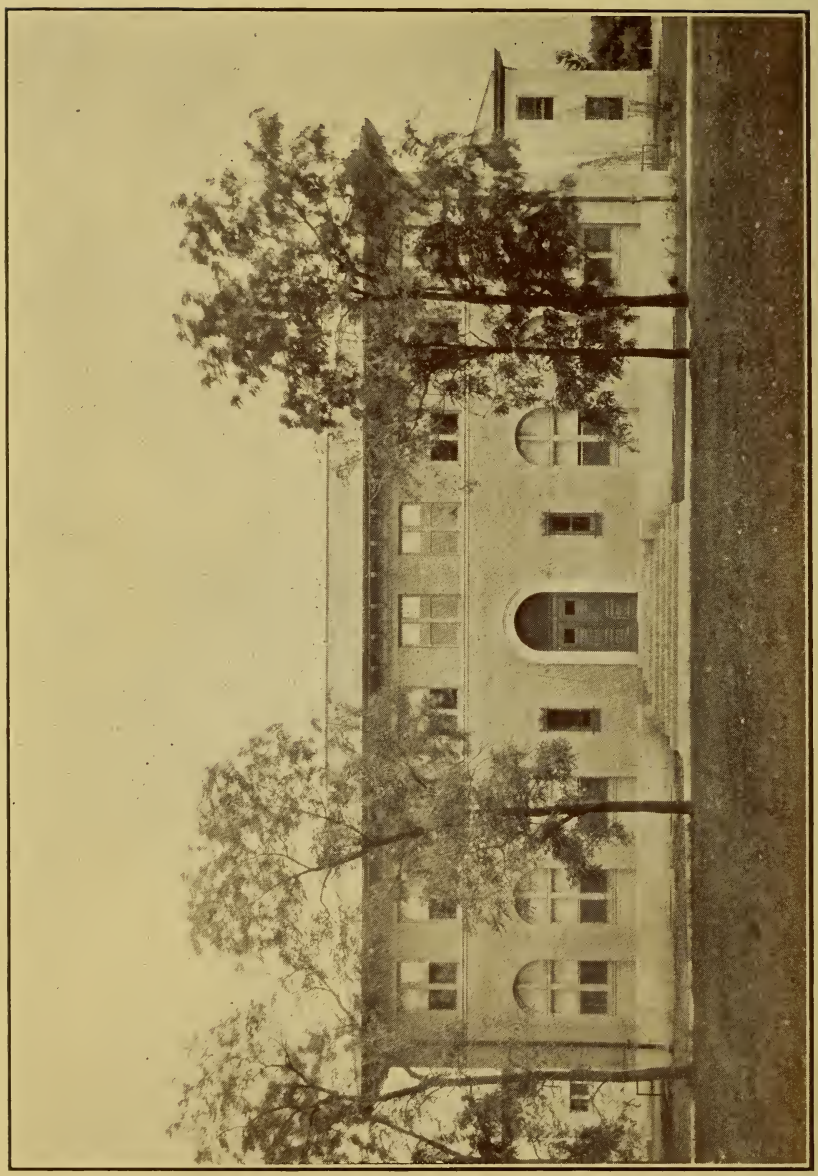
Students admitted conditionally must remove the conditions at the earliest possible opportunity. Degrees will not be granted until such conditions are removed.

Admission by Certificate

Admission may be had by certificate (a) from the secondary schools on the accredited list of the University and (b) from the secondary schools which are members of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and of accrediting associations of equal rank.

Applicants for admission, who are graduates from secondary schools accredited to the University, must file their "entrance cards" with the Registrar or indicate the name of the school and the year of graduation.

Applicants, who are not graduates but enter from secondary schools accredited to the University must secure and file with the Registrar an officially certified record showing the length of time of attendance, the length of each course in weeks, the number of recitations per week, the length of recitations and the grade secured, and also a recommendation from the Superintendent or Principal that the applicant be admitted before graduation.



Agricultural Engineering Building.

Applicants from secondary schools which are members of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and of accrediting associations of equal rank must secure and file with the Registrar an officially certified record showing the length of time of attendance, the length of each course in weeks, the number of recitations per week, the length of recitations and the grade secured, and also whether or not the applicant is a graduate. Graduates of the University Preparatory Course of the School of Agriculture are admitted to full freshman standing in the College of Agriculture.

Admission by Examination

All applicants, other than those mentioned above, for admission to the University are required to take entrance examinations. The High School Inspector holds such examinations during the entire week in which registration occurs.

Entrance Subjects

For admission to freshman standing credit in the following subjects to the amount indicated must be presented:

Required Subjects		Points
English (a)		4
Language (foreign) (b)	4 to 6	10
Mathematics (algebra and geometry) (b)	6 to 4
History (European)		2
Science (laboratory) (c)		2
Elective Subjects
Other subjects taught in an approved manner in an accredited secondary school		12
Total		30

(a) English—This requirement will be increased to six (6) points for all colleges, effective Sept. 1, 1922.

(b) Language and mathematics—

College of Agriculture—Ten points of foreign language and of mathematics are recommended with a minimum of four points in either, but, additional English, history or laboratory science may be offered in place of foreign language.

College of Arts and Sciences—Ten points of foreign languages and of mathematics are required with a minimum of four points in either. In the Academic-Medical course Greek or Latin is recommended.

College of Engineering—Three points of algebra and two points of geometry are required. Additional English, history or laboratory sciences may be offered in place of foreign language.

College of Law—Same as for the College of Arts and Sciences, and in addition thirty college hours of academic work are required. This requirement will be increased to sixty hours, Jan. 1, 1922.

College of Business Administration—Same as for the College of Agriculture.

College of Dentistry—Same as for the College of Arts and Sciences, and in addition thirty college hours of academic work including Chemistry 6 hours, Biology 6 hours, and English 6 hours are required.

College of Medicine—Same as for the College of Arts and Sciences, except that Greek or Latin is recommended, and in addition sixty college hours of academic work, including chemistry 12 hours, four of which shall be organic; English 6 hours, physics 8 hours, zoology 8 hours.

College of Pharmacy—Ten points of foreign language and of mathematics are required, with a minimum of four points in either.
Teachers College—Same as for the College of Arts and Sciences.

(c) Science—
College of Agriculture—Both physics and chemistry are desirable, but a full year of either physics or chemistry should be offered. Students offering only a half year of either cannot continue their study in the College without registering for the elementary course.
College of Engineering—Two points of physics are required and two points of chemistry are desirable.

Temple Building.

Admission to Advanced Standing

Applicants for admission from other universities or colleges must file with the Registrar (1) a letter of honorable dismissal; (2) an officially certified statement of the college work already accomplished showing the length of time in attendance, the length of each course in weeks, the number of recitations or lectures per week, the length of recitation or lecture, the amount of time per week in laboratory courses and the grade secured; (3) an officially certified record of the secondary school work satisfying the admission requirements of that College of the University which they seek to enter.

Full credit is given for work completed at institutions which maintain standards of admission and graduation equal to those of this University. Credits submitted from schools that do not have such standards are scaled or adjusted in proportion to the character and standing of such institutions. In every instance, however, the student must complete in residence, in the senior year, and in the college in which he is registered, at least thirty of the 125 hours for graduation.

Advanced credit, in addition to that presented when admission is granted, must be submitted for approval within one year from date of matriculation.

College credit is given for work done in a secondary school only upon examination and then for a maximum of nine hours elective credit, and only in chemistry, Greek, mechanical drawing, solid geometry, trigonometry, third and fourth year German, French and Latin, and fourth year English. To receive college credit for such work, application must be made at the time of first registration in the University and the examination must be taken by the end of the first semester.

Admission as "Adult Special" Students

Persons at least 21 years of age who cannot fulfill the regular admission requirements for freshman standing, but who present an equivalent academic training, or who have otherwise acquired adequate preparation for collegiate courses, may be admitted to the University as "Adult Specials". Such admission shall be approved by the Dean of the College which applicant desires to enter. Adult specials are subject to the same regulations as regular students in respect to military science or physical training or eventual graduation requirements.

Requirements for Graduation—General Statement

To obtain a Bachelor's Degree in any of the colleges of the University, except in Dentistry, Law, and Medicine, the student must complete and have credit for a minimum of 125 "credit hours." At least eighty per cent of the student's work must be of a grade of seventy or more to count toward graduation. No student is recommended for a degree who has not been reported as within 18 hours of this requimement at the beginning of his last semester. Other rules apply to the Colleges of Medicine, Law, and Dentistry.

A "credit hour" represents the completion of a total of three hours work per week for one semester, consisting of lectures, recitation, preparation or laboratory.

The Summer Session

The Summer Session of the University of Nebraska is planned both to serve the needs of the teachers of the state, and to afford an opportunity to regular University students to shorten their residence at the institution. At present, the regular Summer Session extends over a period of twelve weeks divided into two terms of six weeks each, giving a maximum credit of six (6) hours for each term. Courses offered in the Teachers College High School give entrance credit only.

ACCREDITED SCHOOLS
1919-1920

The University of Nebraska maintains two lists of accredited schools, a four year and a junior list. The graduates of the four year list are admitted to the University (and to nearly all of the colleges and universities of the United States) without entrance examinations in subjects that are properly certified as completed within these schools. A graduate of a non-accredited school is required to take examination for entrance to the University

THE GRADUATE COLLEGE

Classes of Graduate Students—The Graduate College recognizes two classes of applicants: (1) those who are eligible to candidacy for higher degrees and wish to enter at once upon their special work; (2) those who, having taken a bachelor's degree, wish to broaden their education, without reference to higher degrees. Candidates seeking advanced degrees, with insufficient preparation, are admitted to graduate standing but are required to make up their deficiencies by taking courses in the undergraduate colleges.

Graduates of the colleges of this University, or of other institutions having equivalent courses, and who have been accepted and approved by the chairmen of the departments in charge of the subjects desired, are registered by the Dean of the college for the degree they wish to secure. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, the candidate must take a major subject and an approved minor, or a major subject and two approved minors. Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts register for a major subject, or a major and a minor, or a major and two minors.

For information regarding Graduate work in Engineering, see the Bulletin of the Graduate College; in Medicine, see the Bulletin of the College of Medicine.

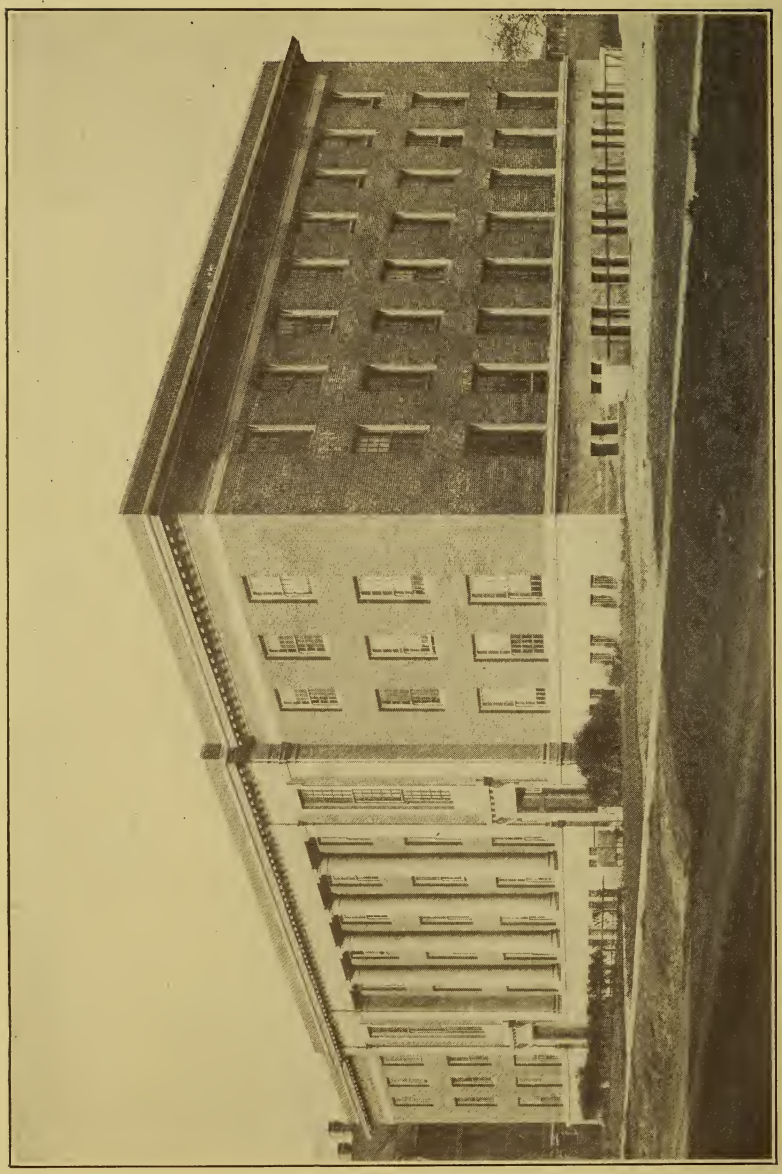
For courses of instruction see the Bulletin of the Graduate College.

Degrees—The Graduate College confers the degrees of Doctor of Philosophy, Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Agricultural, Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering.

Graduate Teachers Diploma—Candidates for the Graduate Teachers Diploma must have first become candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or of Master of Arts. It is conferred only upon persons who have received one or other of these degrees. To become a candidate for this diploma the applicant must have met the requirements for the University Teachers Certificate, and register under advice of the Committee on Requirements, for a major or a minor in Education.

FEES AND EXPENSES

The incidental and matriculation fees will not be refunded in any case except when charged thru official error. Laboratory or tuition fees or any portion thereof will not be refunded to a student after the beginning of the fourth week from the date of his registration, and refund will be made only upon written application to the Registrar, stating reasons and approved by the chairman of the department concerned, presented at the time of withdrawal from class or from the University together with the receipt for fees issued by the Secretary.



Chemistry Hall.

Except in extraordinary cases not more than one-third of the laboratory fees will be refunded after the student has attended the laboratory.

The Secretary does not cash personal checks for accommodation. A check on the personal account of the student will be received when written for the amount of fees only; the check of a student other than the one to whom receipt is issued will not be accepted. Bank checks accepted in payment of fees will be presented under banking rules and if not honored at once the receipt issued to the student will be cancelled immediately. Cash only will be accepted for a new receipt, in lieu of one cancelled.

Students are reminded that the statutes of the state make it a punishable offense to issue and pass a check upon a banking institution in which the maker of the check has no money on deposit at the time, or insufficient money to pay such check. Attention to this is urged.

Parents or guardians are advised to write their checks for student fees separately from those for other expenses of the student: if this is not done the student should deposit his home check in a local bank and give his own check for the amount of fees only. Misapprehension as to the amounts charged for fees is thereby avoided.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Religious.—While the University cannot exercise any official supervision over the religious life and education of the students, it does, however, offer in the departments of history, philosophy and literature, many courses in which the principles of morals and religion are discussed and the life teachings of the great religious teachers are considered and the history of great religious and ethical movements is traced.

There are, however, among the student activities voluntary religious organizations which offer advantages of education in morals and religion. Thru the activities of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations students have an opportunity of expressing their religious interests in voluntary ways. Religious meetings are held at their headquarters in the Temple and Ellen Smith Hall, where social and reading rooms are maintained and general secretaries are in charge to direct the activities of these organizations.

The churches of the city without exception extend the privileges of worship and work to the students and faculty. Voluntary courses in the study of religion and Christian Missions are offered with special reference to the mind and need of the students. Some of the churches maintain University Pastors who offer their services freely as counsellors in matters touching the religious life and vocational interests of the students.

These various agencies found within the University community supplement in an unofficial way the work of the University in fulfilling the aim of all true education to prepare the students for leadership in the affairs of human life.

Literary and Social.—The Palladian, the Union and the Delian are open literary societies meeting weekly on Friday evenings in their rooms in the Temple. The Women's Self-Governing Association is an organization formed to cultivate friendly and helpful relations among women students irrespective of department, course of study, church or society affiliations. All women students and women members of the faculties are eligible to membership. The Dramatic Club is an organization of students interested in amateur theatricals. It gives several plays each year. Membership is by election. The English Club is a writer's club, composed of advanced students and of instructors interested in writing. The club meets regularly to hear and discuss contributions by its members. Membership is by election. The Komensky Club, and the Spanish Club are literary and social organizations, whose main purpose is the study of history and language of Bohemia and Spain. The Classical Club, composed of advanced students in Roman History and Literature, holds regular meetings.

Scientific. The Graduate Club, the Debating Club, the Agricultural Students' Association, the Botanical Seminar, the Chemical Society, the Chemical Journal Club, the Engineering Society, the English and Latin Seminaries, the Latin and Physics Colloquia, the Microscope and Zoological Clubs are more specially collegiate or department organizations, concerning which information is given in the various bulletins devoted to the different Colleges and Schools.

Musical. The University Chorus, open to all students, gives each year several cantatas and oratorios. The Cadet Band, a military band, gives several home concerts annually and furnishes music on occasions of general University interest. The University Orchestra gives a concert every Sunday afternoon in the Art Gallery.

Military. The Pershing Rifles is an organization of cadets composed of the best-drilled men in the University Cadet Battalion. Membership is by election. The Workizer Rifles is a similar organization in the School of Agriculture Cadet Battalion.

Experiment Station Hall.

HONORS AND PRIZES

Fellowships and Scholarships, established in the different departments of the University, are available to students registered in the Graduate College. Fees are remitted to Fellows and Scholars for courses listed in the Graduate College only. Fees will be required for all undergraduate laboratory work.

These positions are awarded to students recommended by the respective chairmen of departments. They are not gifts or benefactions from the state, but are means whereby services are rendered to the University and at the same time the holder is assisted in some special line of work. The instruction required of Fellows and Scholars is confined to the department in which they are pursuing advanced work. For additional information see the announcement of the various colleges.

The William Jennings Bryan Prize. For the best essay on the science of government is offered annually the income of $250, the gift of Hon. William Jennings Bryan. For detailed information apply to the professor of American history.

Athletic and Military Trophies. Cups or other trophies are offered for the winners in the annual Class Field Day and Ivy Day contests, Company Drill, Individual Infantry Drill, and Individual Company Drill and Pershing Rifle contests.

Other Prizes are offered by the College of Law and the College of Medicine for excellence in the work of those colleges. See the Bulletin of the College of Law and the Bulletin of the College of Medicine.

Honorary Societies. Phi Beta Kappa, founded at William and Mary College in 1776, has for its object the promotion of scholarship among the students and graduates of American colleges; the Alpha of Nebraska chapter, founded in 1896, annually elects to its membership the one-tenth to one-sixth of the graduating class whose scholarship rank is highest.

Requirements for Eligibility

Elections to Alpha of Nebraska Phi Beta Kappa will be made annually not earlier than March 5th. The announcement of the names of those elected will be made at the last convocation preceding the spring (Easter) recess.

No person shall be eligible for election on the basis of undergraduate scholarship at the University of Nebraska who is not included in one of the following three classes: (1) Candidates for graduation at the next succeeding June Commencement; (2) Graduates at the immediately preceding Summer Session Commencement; (3) Graduates at the immediately preceding Mid-Year Commencement.

No person shall be eligible to election who has not fulfilled the requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Minimum hours in University of Nebraska—No person shall be eligible who has completed and made available for rating less than 64 hours taken in the University of Nebraska. At least 24 of these hours must be in group work.

Sigma Xi is a similar organization for the encouragement of original investigation in Science, pure and applied.

The Order of the Coif is an organization for the promotion of scholarship in Law.

Delta Sigma Rho is a national society organized in 1906 by universities of the West to promote among college students the art of effective public speaking and debate, and its membership in confined to authorized representatives of universities and colleges in inter-collegiate contests in debate or oratory.

Phi Alpha Tau is an inter-collegiate honorary fraternity, organized by members of the University Debating Squad in 1906 to promote the art of public speaking and debate, and confines its membership, which is limited and by election, to students who have exhibited special interest in public speaking and debate and who have shown special aptitude for that work.

Phi Delta Kappa is a national society of men interested in the scientific study of education.

Alpha Kappa Psi is a national society organized to foster scientific research in the fields of Commerce, Accounts and Finance.

Alpha Zeta is a national society of agricultural students. Moral character and leadership qualities are emphasized.

Gamma Sigma Delta is a national agricultural society composed of faculty, alumni, graduate and senior students. Scholarship and research are important factors.

Omicron Nu is a national home economics society. Members are elected on the basis of scholarship and marked indications of leadership.

The Woman's Pan-Hellenic Association offers three gold scholarship medals to women undergraduates of the University: one each to the freshman, the sophomore and the junior having the highest average of her year. The medals are to be awarded in September of each year. All women in the classes named are eligible as candidates.

The Lincoln Branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae offers a scholarship of $100 for 1921-1922 to a woman of either sophmore or junior standing. The applicatant must have been, and be at the time of application, in part, or wholly, self-supporting. Applications must be made before May 15th.

LIBRARIES

The Libraries in Lincoln, accessible to students of the University, aggregate 362,826 bound volumes and some 50,000 pamphlets. They are as follows:

	Volumes
The University Library	150,000
The State Library	80,000
The Lincoln City Library	48,126
The Nebraska Historical Society Library	65,000
Legislative Reference Library	19,700
	362,826

Art Gallery.

The University Library includes the General library, the branch libraries for the colleges—Agricultural, Engineering, Law, and Medical, the Teachers College High School library and a few departmental collections. The volumes number over 150,000.

The General library occupies the main floor of Library Hall. The main reading room contains the reference collection, the reserved book collection of books for required reading and the recent numbers of American and foreign periodicals of which about 600 are received.

The library is one of the depositories for the printed catalog cards issued by the Library of Congress: it subscribes also to the card publications of Harvard University and the University of Chicago. It possesses an excellent bibliographical collection. The card catalog records the books in all of the libraries of the University.

The library is primarily a reference collection. Officers of the University and graduate students are allowed access to the stacks. Students of the University may take out for two weeks books not reserved for reference or class use. The library is open for reference to anyone—whether connected with the University or not.

A special study room for English and the languages is maintained on the third floor of University Hall. The hours are 9-12 a. m., 1-5 p. m.

The branch and departmental libraries are located as follows:

Agriculture	Agricultural Hall
Astronomy	Observatory
Biology	Bessey Hall
Chemistry	Chemical Laboratory
Engineering and Mathematics	Mechanic Arts Hall
Entomology	Plant Industry Hall
Law	Law Building
Medicine	University Hospital, Omaha
Physics	Brace Laboratory
Teachers College High School	Teachers College

DEBATING

The University of Nebraska participates annually in two intercollegiate debates. The general object of these contests is to provide students an opportunity to apply, under the stimulus of public competition, what they have learned about the science of argumentation and the science of debate—methods of investigation, analysis, rules of evidence, use of arguments, briefing, etc.

Competition for membership on the teams is open to all students in good standing. The members are chosen under the direction of the University Debating Board, from those students appointed at an open competition to membership in the Seminary in Argumentation and Debate (English 106).

ATHLETICS

The Department of Physical Education and Athletics has jurisdiction over all Physical Education activities in the University including both Intercollegiate and Intramural Athletics.

The aims of the department are the development of organic power, the basis of vitality, the prerequisite to physical and mental efficiency; to secure and maintain a harmonious muscular development and a reasonable degree of bodily skill and grace; to provide an incentive and an opportunity for every student to secure physical recreation as a balance to the sedentary demands of university life; to conserve the social and moral values of games and sports; to establish high ideals and efficient administration of athletics.

The Univeristy has two Gymnasiums, Grant Memorial Hall and Soldiers' Memorial Hall. On the ground floor are offices, locker-rooms, bath-rooms and store-rooms. On the second floor there are two halls used for purposes of military drill, calisthenics and games. The State Fair Board has generously granted the University the use of the Coliseum at the Fair Grounds. A first class, maximum size basketball floor has been installed and is now available for Varsity and intramural basketball practice. All Varsity basketball contests are held here. The Coliseum has a seating capacity of between 3500 and 5000.

GYMNASIUM
NEBRASKA SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

Nebraska Field is provided for the use of men students and all inter-collegiate and other games and meets are held there. The field is equipped with two large grandstands, a running track, tennis courts, baseball diamond, football field and other necessary features. A portion of the new campus provides twenty-five additional tennis courts and space for other recreative activities for the general student body.

Competitive athletics are not compulsory but optional to all students complying with the scholastic eligibility requirements.

Members of all University athletic teams are required to take a physical examination at the beginning of the college year or at the beginning of the semester in which that training begins.

No student is permitted to participate in competitive games of an inter-collegiate grade unless he is physically fit for the same as determined by the examination. Every precaution is taken to prevent overstraining, exhaustion or unnecessary strain.

The University is a member of the Missouri Valley Athletic Conference and maintains representative teams in all major inter-collegiate sports. No student may be a member of an inter-collegiate team unless he is an amateur athlete and unless he has been in the University a full college year (exclusive of summer session) and unless he shall have passed during the year of residence previous to participation 27 hours of University work.

All coaches and assistants are members of the University faculty.

LOAN FUNDS

Hon. John R. Webster, of Omaha, Dr. John Alexander Low Waddell, of Kansas City, and Hon. William Gunn Whitmore, of Valley, have given the sum of $1,000 each to be used as a permanent loan fund for students needing assistance. Mr. Webster's donation applies to all students in the University, while the donations of Dr. Waddell and Mr. Whitmore are limited to students in the Engineering College. The interest received from the loaning of this money goes to increase the fund. The full rules for its administration and application blanks may be obtained from the office of the Secretary. Loans will be made only to students in need of assistance and to those who have been matriculated for at least one full year. Upper classmen will be given preference in the making of loans. The moral character of the applicant, his habits for temperance and industry, and his assiduity and success in his studies will also be determining factors. The amount loaned to one student will, except in extraordinary cases, be limited to $100 per semester. The note given by the borrower will bear six per cent interest, payable annually; the loan to be wholly repaid two years after the student graduates or leaves school.

Mrs. Ida C. Carter, of New York City, has arranged to give a fund of $500 to be known as the A. E. Carter Loan Fund, in honor of her husband who was a graduate of the College of Engineering. This fund is available for students of that college only.

The class of 1898 and the class of 1900 started on their twentieth anniversaries a loan fund available to any needy student. Small loans were made in the course of the school year, 1920-21, and will be available next year on application to the committees in charge.

Women students may receive aid from the Women's Self Government Association loan fund. Applications may be filed in the office of the Dean of Women.

Work in Pottery.

PUBLICATIONS

General University Publications. In addition to its annual Calendar and other periodic Bulletins, the University publishes quarterly the University Journal, devoted to the interests of the University Alumni and the University Extension News, fifty-two numbers of which are published during the year. General student publications include the Daily Nebraskan, Agriculture (monthly), The Cornhusker (annual), and the Students' Handbook (annual). One number of the Bulletin of the University is entitled The High School Manual and is devoted to high school problems.

Departmental or Special Publications are the University studies (see the Graduate College), Studies from the Zoological Laboratory, Reports of the Botanical Survey of Nebraska, the Flora of Nebraska and the Nebraska Geological Survey. The Nebraska Engineering Blue Print is a semi-annual publication by the Engineering Students.

Women's Dormitories.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION

Students' Mail sent direct to the University should be addressed "Station A, Lincoln, Nebraska". This United States post-office is in effect part of the University, occupying University Hall 104, convenient to all students.

Board, Room, Employment. The average cost of a year's attendance at the University (not including fees of any kind) is between $400 and $500. Many students reduce this amount. Board and lodging may be had among families of the city. In September the University Y. M. C. A. makes a canvass of the city and keeps on file lists of rooms and boarding places for men, and also maintains an employment bureau. Women should apply to the office of the Dean of Women for information concerning dormitories, approved rooming houses and employment. A student in a city the size of Lincoln has many opportunities to secure employment by which he may defray at least part of his expenses. The authorities of the University do not, however, undertake to find employment for students. A student is advised not to enter the University unless he can count upon resources for one semester—at least $150.

The Cottage Dormitories located on the campus have accommodations for one hundred and fifty women. New students will be given the preference but applications of upper class students will be registered. Further information may be secured of the Dean of Women in Ellen Smith Hall.

The University Cafeteria and Commons—The University Cafeteria in the Temple building is open to both men and women of the University. This enables the students to obtain wholesome food at a minimum cost. The Commons is open to women only.

Convocation. University convocations are held at intervals when interesting addresses on important topics or musical programs form the nucleus of these exercises.

Medical Advice and Service. The University maintains a department of medical advice and any student needing this should report at once to the physician in charge. The medical dispensary is located in the building of the College of Pharmacy. Medical advice and dispensary service are free to all students of the University; drugs and medical supplies are furnished at cost. Inasmuch as this service is maintained without profit, but solely for the benefit of the student, the University cannot be held responsible for unforeseen or unexpected results. The chief function of the physician in charge is to act in a general advisory capacity, to look after minor injuries requiring immediate treatment, and to detect incipient ailments which may be a menace to the student's own health or to the health of others.

Visitors to the University. Visitors are always welcome. High school classes, clubs, or parties should, a few days in advance, inform the Registrar of their coming.

Meetings of State Societies. Many state societies hold their annual meetings at the University. The University is always pleased to extend its hospitality and the use of its buildings to any of these or to any similar organization.

The Alumni Association, organized in 1874, is composed of the graduates of the University, including graduates receiving higher degrees. The annual meeting is held a day or two before Commencement Day in the spring. A secretary has been secured who is now giving full time to the work of the Association.

STUDENT COUNCIL CONSTITUTION

The following Student Council Constitution was adopted by vote of the student body, May 25, 1917, and amended May 12, 1921:

Article I. The name of this organization shall be the Student Council of the University of Nebraska.

Article II. The purpose of this organization shall be the relating of all extra-curricula activities to one another and to the University as a whole; the creation of such other expressions of student life as shall supplement those already established; the direction of such other matters of student interest as shall be initiated by or referred to the Student Council. The council shall also act as a student court to investigate and make recommendations in such cases of minor discipline as shall be referred to it by the executive dean and the dean of women.

Article III. Student elections shall be conducted under the supervision of the Student Council.

Article IV. The Student Council shall be composed of the following representatives:

1. Twelve members apportioned as follows:
   a. Seven junior men, one from each of the following: College of agriculture, arts and sciences, engineering, law, pharmacy, dentistry, and business administration.
   b. Four junior women, one each from the colleges of agriculture and arts and sciences, one from the school of fine arts, and one from the teachers college.
   c. One man or women from the graduate college.

   These eleven representatives shall be nominated from the floor at a mass meeting of their own college or school held at a time set by the Student Council, and shall be voted upon by the members of their own college or school at the regular Student Council election, the time of which shall be set by the Student Council.
2. Four seniors—two men and two women—nominated from the floor at a mass meeting of the senior class and elected by the student body at the regular Student Council election.

   At the first election for members of the Student Council this number shall be increased to eight seniors—four men and four women—the additional four members to take the place of those provided for in Article 3 following.
3. Four seniors—two men and two women—nominated and elected by the Student Council from the junior members of that body, to serve during the following year.
4. The sophomores who shall be non-voting members.

   The highest man and highest woman officer of the freshman class chosen at the second semester class election shall serve in this capacity.

Article V. The regular Student Council election shall be held not earlier than April 1st and not later than May 15th of the year preceding that in which members are to serve. Within these limits the date for election shall be set by the Student Council. Voting shall be by preferential ballot. Mass meetings for nominations shall be held at least one week before the election.

Article VI. Candidates to be eligible for election shall be members of the specific school or college and class as determined by the regular University rulings in such cases, and shall have a scholastic average of at least 75 per cent for the preceding semester.

Article VII. A meeting of the newly elected Student Council shall be called by the outgoing chairman within one week after the election day.

At the establishment of the Student Council the first meeting shall be called by the senior receiving the highest number of votes.

At this meeting the necessary officers shall be elected and the organization of the council perfected. A chairman and vice-chairman—one of whom shall be a man and the other a woman—shall be chosen in order to provide a chairman for separate men's and women's sections at such times as shall seem expedient.

Article VIII. Vacancies occurring in the Student Council shall be filled by the class or college in which the vacancy occurred, not later than two weeks after notice of such a vacancy has been given them by the Council. Chairman of the Student Council shall call mass meetings to fill vacancies and act as temporary chairman, except when the vacancy occurs in the representation from a class.

Article IX. At the mass meetings for nominations there shall be at least two candidates nominated for each position to be filled. The names of suggested nominees shall be handed to the chairman in writing and a majority standing vote necessary to nominate each one. The temporary chairman of all such mass meetings shall be the Student Council representative from that college or class.

Article X. Mass meetings of students shall be called by the chairman of the Student Council at the discretion of the council, or upon the written request of fifty students of the University.

Article XI. Amendments to this constitution or revisions of it may be presented to students in mass meeting assembled, and upon a majority vote of those present, shall be submitted for adoption to the student body at an election called for that purpose.

Article XII. Students may present any proposal or grievances to the Council in writing or in person at any regular meeting.

CLASS ELECTIONS

The following resolution regarding class elections was adopted by the four classes of the University in 1912. This applies only to regular students of undergraduate rank. It does not apply to Adult Special students.

"Resolved, That the Presidents of the four classes, the Ivy Day Orator, and the Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, and Business Manager of the Cornhusker be elected by the Australian Ballot System as follows:

ARTICLE I

"There shall be one general election by this system the third Tuesday of each semester, exclusive of Registration week, at which election the Presidents of the four classes shall be elected. The Ivy Day Orator, Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor and Business Manager of the Cornhusker shall be elected at the general election of the second semester.

ARTICLE II

"The Registrar shall designate the place of election. The polls shall be in charge of three faculty members appointed by the Registrar. Each candidate may have a representative at the polls during the election.

ARTICLE III

"Each voter shall check the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he wishes to vote on a ballot furnished him by the election officials which ballot shall then be deposited by the election officials in its respective box. There shall be a separate ballot for each class. At the close of election the ballots shall be counted by the election officials.

ARTICLE IV

"No vote shall be solicited by cards or otherwise at the polls or in the building in which the election is being held during election day.

ARTICLE V

"Each candidate must file his name with the Registrar not later than five (5) p. m. on Friday prior to the day of election. The Registrar shall announce the election in the columns of the Daily Nebraskan ten (10) days prior to the day of election.

ARTICLE VI

"(a) Any student having the full number of entrance credits properly distributed as required by the University and less than twenty-four (24) hours University credits, shall be considered a freshman.

"(b) Any students having from twenty-four (24) up to, but excluding fifty-three (53) hours credit in addition to the full number of entrance points as above named, or any freshman in a three year

College having thirty (30) entrance credits, shall be considered a sophomore.

"(c) Any student having from fifty-three (53) up to, but excluding eighty-nine (89) hours credit, or any second year man, by credit, in a three year College, shall be considered a junior.

"(d) Any student having from eighty-nine (89) up to, but excluding graduation, or any third year man, by credit, in a three year College, shall be considered a senior.

"(e) During the second semester of each year, eighteen (18) hours shall be added to each and every one of the foregoing figures.

ARTICLE VII

"The above and foregoing provisions are subject to recall for cause, by the University Senate on one semester's notice."

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING STUDENTS

The proper University authorities have established certain definite rules and regulations for the government of student conduct and activities within the University. Each student is expected to familiarize himself with these rules and is held responsible for compliance with their provisions. These rules and regulations are as follows:

Registration

1. A candidate for admission to any of the colleges or schools of the University must forward his entrance credentials to the Registrar. This should be done at least two months in advance of the opening of the semester. Credentials submitted for evaluation become the property of the University and are retained in our permanent file as the basis on which statement of standing is given. On receipt and evaluation of the credentials the candidate will be informed of his standing and as soon as possible definite instructions regarding the various steps in registering will be mailed in order that the candidate may know in advance just what will be required of him when he presents himself for registration. Upon arrival at the University the candidate presents himself at the Registrar's office, Administration Hall 103 or elsewhere as directed for instruction regarding registration. Registration is governed by certain regulations and restrictions in each College and School of the University, and those of the College the candidate expects to enter should be studied carefully before the work of registration is undertaken.

2. Each student[1] should register at the Registrar's office at the beginning of each semester on one of the days set apart for registration. To promote prompt registration a fee of three dollars ($3) is charged a student, who, unless permitted to do so by the Registrar, for any reason seeks to register later. A fee of one dollar ($1.00) is charged for any re-registration which is made necessary by the student's fault. Any change whatever in registration once made, dropping or adding a study, is regarded as a re-registration.

3. All fees must be paid to the Secretary of the University before the registration is complete.

4. First or second year students (freshman or sophomore) may not register for more than five subjects (exclusive of drill or physical training). First year students may not register for more than 17 credit hours. Students above first year who have attained an average grade of 80 per cent during the previous year may register for a maximum of 18 credit hours. Credit is not given for work in excess of the maximum of 18 hours a semester, or for work pursued without registration at the time when pursuing the same. First or second year students may not register for more than one one-hour course (exclusive of drill and physical training) in any one semester; and third or fourth year students may not register for more than two one-hour courses in one semester.

5. A student who fails in a required subject must register for that subject again the first time it is offered. A student who is conditioned ("C") or incomplete ("I") in a subject must remove the condition or incomplete by the end of the first semester in which that subject is again offered, or it becomes a failure.

[1]Freshman schedules are arranged for the year. Their registration for the second semester is, in general, merely a formality consisting in the payment of the necessary fees.

6. A student cannot attend a class for which he is not registered. The official certificate of registration, signed by the Registrar, is the only evidence of registration to be accepted from the student by an instructor. Credit is not granted for a subject pursued without registration.

7. Students are not allowed to change from one group of studies to another or from one college to another without written permission by the Dean of each College concerned. A student changing college must also pay a new matriculation fee of five dollars ($5).

8. A student who, by virtue of special circumstances, is allowed to register for less than the minimum twelve (12) hours required of regular students, receives this permission only for such time as the special conditions continue. Persons are not allowed to abuse the privilege of registering as special students to secure merely nominal membership in the University, either for social purposes or for any other reason.

9. Every detail of registration and record from the time the student leaves the high school until he graduates from the University, together with the interpretation of all the rules relating thereto and the publication of the same, are under the supervision of the Registrar, who is responsible directly to the Provost.

Military Science and Physical Training

10. Each undergraduate man in the University proper is required to receive military instruction during four semesters. Each man in the School of Agriculture shall receive military instruction during his attendance. Excuses from this requirement are granted to either class of students only on the grounds of conscientious scruples, physical disability, or other reasons equally valid. Such excuses shall be granted only upon written application to the commandant of cadets, in whom shall be vested the power to decide such cases. Such decisions may be appealed to the Executive Dean only on presentation by the student of a written statement from the commandant, containing the facts in the case and the reason for refusing to grant the excuse.

New students entering with 45 hours of advanced credit, students over 25 years of age, young men who are not citizens of the U. S., those taking not to exceed six hours in the University and non-matriculated students attending the short courses are excused from Military Science as a required course. If the course is once started, however, it must be carried to completion unless the student is properly excused.

11. Those excused from Military Science, because of religious scruples, are required to do work in Physical Education equivalent in amount. Unless the student is excused or reprieved, this requirement must be fulfilled in the freshman and sophomore years. A student excused from this requirement (what ever the reason) must still, in order to graduate, obtain the full number of hours credit required of other candidates for the degree sought. Thoro drill elsewhere than at the University when given under an army officer detailed as Professor of Military Science and Tactics, may, as in the case of any other study, on evaluation, be credited to a student in lieu of a like amount of military science at the University.

12. Regular attendance is required at all recitations, laboratory and field work.

13. Temporary leave of absence may be granted a student by the Dean of his College. This leave of absence is not an excuse from any work. Students not previously excused shall make request for excuse for absence within two weeks after the absence ceases.

14. Each unexcused absence in any subject may, in the discretion of the instructor, deduct three points from the student's semester grade in that subject.

Examinations—Class Work

15. Examinations or tests in every class in the University are held at the option of the instructor. Final examinations shall be held during the last week of the semester. Individual examinations can not be demanded by the student as a matter of right. Such examinations are permitted, if at all, only as a matter of comity. They are given by the permission and at the convenience of the instructor after the regular examination of the class or section. The instructor's permission being obtained, the student desiring individual examination must pay the required fees to the Secretary. On presentation of a receipt therefor to the instructor, the latter is authorized to proceed with the examination.

16. No student is allowed to take any book or paper into the examination room unless the instructor expressly so directs.

17. Sessions of class work of each semester shall be held regularly till 6 p. m. of the Friday preceding the last week of the semester unless otherwise provided by special rule.

Reports—Standing

18. On the attendance and standing of each student in each course the instructor makes the following regular reports:

To the Executive Dean:

A. At the end of each week he reports the absences for the week and all cases of delinquency.

B. At the end of each fourth week he reports all students who are below a passing grade as shown by class-room work and the mid-semester examination or test.

To the Registrar:

C. At the end of the semester he reports the proficiency each student has attained. All grades above passing (60)[1] are reported to the Registrar in figures, either in straight percentages or in multiples of five. Below passing the following are the markings: F—Failure (below 50); C—Conditioned; I—Incomplete. Also A—Withdrew in good standing; D—Delinquent at time of withdrawal.

Honorable Dismissal

19. Students not minors being in good and honorable standing may secure honorable dismissal from the University at their own request, and minors at the request of parents or guardians.

College of Law Building

Discipline

20. Whenever at the middle or end of any semester a student is delinquent in half or more of his hours of registration, his name is automatically dropped from the rolls of the University. Such delinquent student may be reinstated by the Scholarship Committee. A student may be refused registration, suspended, or expelled for infringing the good order and comity of the University, as by dishonesty in written work, the acts inhibited in sections 21 to 24 below, or any conduct injurious to the work or the good name of the University.

[1]See statement concerning "grades" on page 35.

Ellen Smith Hall.

21. A student who is delinquent in two or more subjects but less than one-half of his work is placed on probation.

22. The case of any student detected in dishonestly giving or receiving aid during an examination must be immediately reported to the Executive Dean by the instructor in charge of the examination or by the chairman of the department with a succinct account of the evidence in the case. In cases of clear guilt the Dean affixes penalties in accordance with deserts.

Dishonesty in written work, themes, essays, reports, theses and the like, is treated in the same way as dishonesty in examinations. The turpitude consists in the presentation as one's own work of results really borrowed in whole or in part from another.

23. Students must not do any acts inconsistent with good morals.

24. A student must not neglect a call of any University official or committee.

25. Whenever a student is dropped from the University on account of vicious or wanton delinquency his name may be published.

26. The rights of respectful petition and of appeal to the Chancellor are granted.

Petitions—Appeals

27. No extraordinary meetings of students shall be held on the University grounds or within any University buildings for any purpose whatever, except after and in pursuance of a written or printed notice or call stating clearly the business of such meeting. Said notice must be signed by at least three students, approved in the Registrar's office, and be posted openly on the University bulletin board. Such meetings shall always be open and subject to immediate adjournment by the Chancellor or Executive Dean in case of disorder.

Boards of Control

28. The University Debating Board, composed of seven faculty members (ex-officio) and of five student members elected annually, supervises all public debates between students of the University and other institutions.

29. The Student Publication Board, composed of four faculty members, three student members and the Agent of Student Activities, has general oversight over all publications by University students.

Organizations, Social Functions

30. All non-athletic organizations and social functions are under the supervision of the Senate Committee on Student Organizations, which may enact such special rules, subject to the Chancellor and the Board, as it may deem necessary for the proper control of such organizations and functions. Organizations coming into financial relations with the public shall submit their accounts to this committee for audit.

31. A new fraternal or similar organization is required to secure, first, the consent of the Senate Committee on Student Organizations, and, second, final approval of the Chancellor.

32. No person registered in any secondary school of the University shall become a member of any fraternity or sorority.

33. A student, who, in any semester, is not satisfactorily carrying at least twelve (12) hours is debarred from acting as departmental assistant or representing the University that semester on any athletic or debate team or board, on a glee, mandolin or dramatic club, on the staff of any college publication or in any other University organization; moreover, a student who fails to pass in twelve (12) hours at the end of a semester is debarred from representing the University in any capacity the semester following. In case a student in any of the above named student enterprises fails, any semester, to carry satisfactorily the work or any part thereof for which he is registered, the Committee on Delinquent Students may at its discretion lessen the hours of such student's registration.

34. Women students in the University shall not take part in out-of-town performances such as dramatic and glee club presentations, elocution recitals, etc., during the regular sessions of the University, and at other times only after permission is granted by the Committee on Student Organizations and Social Functions.

35. All University functions, including athletic contests on home grounds and social gatherings of departmental clubs, shall be held on Friday evening and Saturdays.

All meetings of University clubs and organizations holding later than 8 p. m. shall occur on Friday and Saturday evenings, except by special permission of the Committee on Student Organizations. Departmental clubs may meet once a month after 8 p. m.

All University parties, formal or informal, shall close not later than 11:30 p. m.

All parties where women are present shall be officially chaperoned. Notice of such parties shall be given to the Dean of Women and the names of the chaperones submitted to her for approval at least two days in advance. At all entertainments not given in private homes or organization houses, members of the University faculty are to be included among the guests invited to chaperone the parties.

Social Customs

36. The residence of men and women in the same lodging house is not approved, and is not permitted unless the circumstances are unusual. In this case, written permission must be granted by the Dean of Women.

37. A landlady rooming women students is expected to provide for their use, till half after ten on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, or on two of these evenings, a reception room on the first floor, properly warmed and lighted.

Women students in these houses will receive gentlemen callers only on evenings named and only in the reception rooms. Gentlemen will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Library Hall.

Library and Use of Books

38. Any student regularly registered may borrow for not more than two weeks any books not excepted from circulation.

The following classes of books are not circulated: Reference books shelved in reading room; periodicals, whether bound volumes or current numbers.

Books especially reserved for class use may not be taken out except over night.

There is no provision for a student borrowing from departmental libraries.

A student leaving Lincoln for more than one week must, on or before leaving, return all the library books in his possession.

Infractions of the library rules will be dealt with in accordance with the recommendation of the librarian.

Announcements

39. Any official University announcement or notice is considered as duly published and as binding upon all students when it is placed upon the official bulletin board or when it is announced at convocation.

40. All signs, posters and announcements will be confined to the bulletin boards and must be approved by the Registrar. No signs, posters of announcements of any sort will be permitted on the fences in or surrounding the campus, on doors of buildings, on the benches or on any other University property except the bulletin boards.

41. No private advertising announcements can be placed upon any of the University bulletin boards, nor is it permissible to give out handbills or cards of any kind at the gates of the campus.
